

Pānui Tanga!

Nau Mai Haeremai, Mane Tahere!

Mane Tahere joins staff at the Ngāti Tama ki Te Waipounamu Trust!

After a rigorous recruitment process, the Trustees, management and staff of the Ngāti Tama ki Te Waipounamu Trust welcome Mane Tahere as our new Cultural & Communications Manager. Mane started working for the Trust on Monday 22 May and is looking forward to meeting Whānau in Te Tau Ihu and further afield. Aside from communication, a big part of his role will be leading cultural revitalisation, wānanga initiatives and a kaumātua forum.

Mane is Ngāi Tahu & Ngapuhi on his Father's side and Hauraki on his mother's side. He is a fluent Te Reo Māori speaker, 30 years of age and is completing his studies towards a Masters of Business Administration (MBA).

He has worked in Tertiary Education, Te Wānanga o Aotearoa and recently moved from Northland where he was a Student Advisor, working closely with Rangatahi. Mane was active with Kapa Haka and is closely involved with two marae, one as a Chairman of the Komiti (Te Whare Awhina O Ngāti Tautahi Inc) and the other as a Trustee (Te Iringa Marae).

We are looking forward to working with Mane and are privileged to have him as part of the team.
